Here are some questions to help get you started with your discussion.

The Horse and His Boy Chapter 13:

- ❖ How often, do you think, Aslan has kept Shasta safe and he didn't even know it?
- ❖ Shasta doesn't know much and struggles in battle, yet he is the reason King Lune is able to make it help with the defense in time. What do you make of Shasta, then, being the chief cause of victory?
- ❖ What do you make of Rabadash's predicament? Discuss any connections you find in life, history, or Scripture with it.
- ❖ What do you think of King Lune's judgment on Rabadash?
- ❖ The Hermit comments on children being in battle. Have they all forgotten that the Kings and Queens of Narnia first fought as children?
